Title to all wines sold by Northern Lights Estate Winery passes to the buyer at the winery in British Columbia, at the time of sale. As all sales occur in British Columbia, BC sales taxes will be applied. Any other taxes are the responsibility of the purchaser. Purchaser agrees that any wine purchased is intended for personal consumption and not for resale. All wine orders must be placed by a person 19 years of age or older. Verification of age may be required at the time of delivery. Failure to produce age verification when requested forfeits the right to receive the shipment until identification is produced. In such circumstances, the order may be held by the shipping company until identification is produced, or it may be shipped back to the winery. Wine will not be delivered to an intoxicated person. All associated costs (such as product, shipping, taxes, insurance, heating fees where applicable) will be the responsibility of and be charged to the customer. We recommend the use of a business address to facilitate delivery of your purchase. Deliveries will not be left unattended.
